MANUFACTURE OF ENGLISH PATENT ARTICLES IN SCOTLAND.

THE Advertiser having taken, for nearly ten years, an active part in the management of the English Manufacture, wishes to assist in establishing one in Scotland (to which the Patent does not extend). The article is of general use, and very lucrative, well calculated for North Britain, not only for home consumption, but for exportation. As the price of labour and the staple commodity of that part of view, of magnitude, and respects both public and private interest. Calculating upon the establishment of the English Manufacture, and considering the very quick turn, it might require a capital of between £2000 and £3000.

Any Gentleman wishing to encourage this undertaking, either as an active or as an inactive proprietor, or otherwise, may receive particulars by addressing a letter to J. C. at Mr. Peck's, No. 21, New North Street, Red Lion Square, London. If not publicly known, the favour of a reference is requested, on account of the distance, and to avoid unnecessary explanation.

The price of this most elegant and expensive manufacture, could not fail being materially affected by the advance which has lately taken place on every species of writing paper; but as PERTH CREAM COLOURED PAPER has long been celebrated for its excellence, WILLIAM MORRISON is ambitious it should also be distinguished for cheapness. He has therefore fixed his prices at only twopenny per quire above the rates of common writing papers, instead of sixpence as they have been almost everywhere else established.

Prime Papers, with the wire mark, from the most celebrated manufacturers in Kent, are always to be had at W. M.'s, cheap.

Established 1793. No. 429, STRAND—LONDON.

ROBERT LADBROKE, Esq. Chairman.

WILLIAM MORELAND, Esq. M. P. Deputy Chairman.

R. SKELTON, Secretary.

Mr Pitt, in the late discussion on the Income Bill, recommended to Parliament, which its wisdom thought proper to adopt.

Class of the 5th, in General Deduction from Income.

Persons who have made or shall make insurance on their respective lives, or on the lives of their respective wives, shall be at liberty, in addition to any other deductions, to deduct the amount of the Premium of such Insurance for the current year.

The attention of the Legislature to the prudent arrangement of every man anxious to provide for his wife, children, and dependents, renders it unnecessary to detail the advantages resulting from Life Insurance, as a measure of property. The Society have no wish to refer to their Printed Proposals for the terms and conditions, which may be had gratis.

This Society do not charge any addition of Premium for persons in a Volunteer Corps and Associations, nor even in the Militia, provided their military services are confined to Great Britain.

THIS Society, finding that the business of their institution has extended itself very considerably, have been able to make a great diminution in their Premiums upon Lives, &c. which are now rated as in the first class annexed.

For the convenience of the Public, they have appointed as their Agent ROBERT ALLAN & SON, EDINBURGH.

JOHN BUCHANAN, jun. Merchant, GLASGOW.

Of whom every information may be had, either for Insurances or Annuities, and by whom Annuitants will be paid, and printed proposals given out gratis.

TWO FARMS TO LET IN STIRLINGSHIRE.

THE one about sixty acres, divided into seven parks, and has been pastured for several years, and one of them dunned last winter. They are well watered, fenced, and sheltered. This farm is about 2 miles to the westward of Linlithgow.

Any person taking this farm may have the crops on the ground at a reasonable consideration, and may have immediate possession.

The other farm, consisting of about fifty acres, divided into four parks, has been pastured several years, and is about an equal distance between Falkirk and Linlithgow. The houses are in good condition. Both farms will be let either for tillage or pasture, as parties can agree. Cattle to both farms are within a few minutes driving; and tenants will have the privilege of cutting peats in a moor belonging to the proprietor, Walter Gibson, at Greenknow, formerly Muirside, who will inform as to particulars, and show the premises.

THE GENUINE DISTINGUISHED FROM COUNTERFEITS.

By the King's Patent.

MR. JOHNSTON'S ESSENCE OF MUSTARD, is a very valuable Medicine of established repute and extensive sale, respectfully informs the Nobility, Gentry, and Public, he has obtained the King's Patent for his Invention, not to recommend but to distinguish WHITEHEAD'S ESSENCE OF MUSTARD from spurious imitations.

Five years have now elapsed since Mr. Johnston first made known to the world this very extraordinary Medicine. During this short period its efficacy has been so clearly demonstrated that its sale has infinitely exceeded any former example. Comparatively, there are few families which have not either heard of or experienced its beneficial effects; and with heartfelt satisfaction he has the happiness to declare WHITEHEAD'S ESSENCE OF MUSTARD has cured more persons afflicted with Rheumatism, Gout, Lumbago, Palsy, Complaints of the Stomach and other Painful Maladies, than all the medicines ever before made public. It has obtained the approbation of many eminent men of the Faculty, and honoured with the unsolicited support and recommendation of the first families in the kingdom.

As the bottles, boxes, labels, and bills of direction of this original medicine are closely copied, and the words "By Royal Authority," artfully substituted for the words "By the King's Patent," it may elude common observation; Mr. Johnston therefore recommends the afflicted to be particular in the purchase.

Whitehead's Essence of Mustard, is prepared and sold, in Pills and in a fluid state, at 2s. 6d. each box or bottle, by the Inventor, R. Johnston, apothecary and chemist, No. 15, Green Street, Soho, London. It is distinguished from counterfeits by the King's Patent, and the signature "R. Johnston," in his own hand-writing, on each label; sold also by his appointment, by ANDREW SMITH, No. 38, North Bridge, Husband, Elder, and Co. R. Scott, apothecary, Wm. Raeburn, and T. Spence, Edinburgh; Pherson, Berwick & Allan, Dundee; Inglis and Dixon, Dumfries; McIntosh & Co. Inverness; Craigie, Montrose; Cave, Banff; Mitchell, Aberdeen; Menzies and McDonald, Glasgow.

CHILBLAINS.

N. B. The Fluid Essence immediately allays their tormenting itching, and will assuredly prevent them from breaking, every when turned quite black; and if used according to the directions, will absolutely cure them by three or four applications.

ITCH INFALLIBLY CURED.

AT TWICE RUBBING.

BY JACKSON'S ORIGINAL OINTMENT.

PREPARED ONLY BY JAMES BARCLAY, (late T. Jackson) No. 95, Fleet Market, London, where it has been prepared and sold for upwards of fifty years. It cures annually fifteen thousand persons, and was never known to fail.

It does not contain the least particle of Mercury, or any other pernicious ingredient, but may be used with safety by women with child, and infants newly born, and is not disagreeable in its flavour. Its safety and dispatch is fully manifested by the Faculty adopting it in their private practice, which several of the most reputable have done for many years.

It becomes particularly necessary to caution those who are afflicted with the above distemper against imposition, as several unprincipled men have substituted their own pernicious trash (whose basis is Mercury) in its stead, and taking advantage of the death of Mr. Jackson, have put his name to their preparation—You will therefore observe, as you regard your health, that the name of J. Barclay is written on the stamp (affixed to each box) without which it cannot be genuine.—Price 1s. 9d. each box.

Sold by the Proprietor, JAMES BARCLAY, No. 95, Fleet Market, London—and by his appointment by

R. SCOTT, APOTHECARY.

WATSON & CO. AND J. BAXTER, South Bridge, Edinburgh.

Macintosh & Co. Inverness, W. Anderson, Stirling, R. Morrison & Son, Perth, A. Barry, Paisley, J. Allan, Dundee, E. Humber, Newcastle, J. Menzies, Glasgow, & Jolly, Carlisle.

Where may be had, JACKSON'S ASTHMATIC CANDY.

For Complaints of the Stomach and Lungs.

The success of this Medicine in removing Coughs and Colds, and in alleviating the most alarming complaints incident to persons of a gouty, relaxed, and asthmatic habit, is universally acknowledged.—Price 2s. 6d. or 2s. 1d. the box, duty included.

Trinity House, Newcastle upon Tyne.

IN consequence of the recent instances of misfortune which have happened at Holy Island, whereby many lives, as well as much property, have been lost, the want of proper beacons to direct ships into that harbour when the weather is so bad that pilots cannot get off,—the Master and Brethren of this House, by an application to Lord Teeskdale, have obtained leave to erect Beacons on the south side of the said harbour, for the better direction of ships going in, which Beacons are now completed, and proper persons appointed to attend the same, and the trade may be accommodated with directions for going into the said harbour, by applying at the Custom-house here, and at Sunderland, paying a small contribution, annually for the support of such Beacons.

THE HOUSE, GARDEN,

EDINBURGH MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Edinburgh Missionary Society embrace the earliest opportunity of expressing, in this public manner, their deep affliction at the melancholy intelligence which they have received from their brethren of the Missionary Society in London. The ship Duff with Missionaries for the South Sea Islands, has been captured by a French privateer, off the coast of Brazil. The Missionaries were confined between decks for about two weeks; in a small space not sufficient for half their number, and after being plundered of every article which they possessed, were landed at Moque Video in the river La Plata. There, it is probable, they still remain, in peculiar distress from the disappointment of their views, the want of necessary comforts, and the uncertainty of finding means either to prosecute their voyage, or return home.

The Society are convinced that their Brethren in London have omitted no means which appeared to them necessary to prevent the calamity that has happened. They took the benefit of convey as far as it could be had; they asked no protection, indeed, from the French Government, because, though the contrary has been asserted in the newspapers, they had asked it, on a former occasion, in vain. They mark, therefore, and revere, in this afflicting dispensation, the Providence of God, infinitely wise; and desire to believe that He has done all things well, and that He will make even this event subservient to the great purposes of his grace to mankind. They do not, on account of this disappointment, think the less favourably of the undertaking, in which they and their brethren are engaged; for they are persuaded that to communicate the knowledge of the Gospel to the Heathen, is a work of the highest charity, and that, whatever temporary obstructions may impede its execution, it will, and must, in the issue, be successful.

The friends of religion must feel themselves peculiarly called upon to manifest on this occasion their wonted liberality. Twenty-eight Missionaries, besides women and children, are already in the islands of the South Sea, who must be looking long and anxiously for intelligence and relief from Europe, and it behoves us to enquire after their welfare. Thirty Missionaries, besides ten women, and six children, who went by the ship Duff, are now captives in South America, and it is necessary to make every exertion for their relief. A considerable number of Missionaries are ready to sail for the Sandwich and other islands; and, since God has put it into their hearts to devote themselves to His service among the Heathen, it is our duty to hasten their departure.

But it must be obvious, that the funds of the Missionary Society in London have suffered a severe stroke by the capture of the Duff. Though the ship was insured to the extent of 5000l. Sterling, yet it appears that a loss will be sustained of not less than 10,000l. more; and if the Society are not enabled by the liberality of the public speedily to repair this loss, they will feel no small degree of embarrassment in prosecuting the important objects which press upon them.

The Edinburgh Missionary Society feel themselves constrained not only to come forward on this interesting occasion, with their individual subscriptions, besides such a sum from their public funds as can be spared, but also to call on the friends of religion and humanity to lend their aid in this work of benevolence. They trust that the misrepresentations of persons ignorant of the design, or hostile to the object of the Society, will not influence any of them to withhold their contributions. On the contrary, the experience which the Society have had of their liberality and zeal, forbids to doubt of their alacrity on the present occasion. They are persuaded they have been anticipated by the wishes of many who needed only to be informed that they will have an opportunity of contributing, according to their ability, to deliver their brethren from captivity, to comfort the hearts of those who must be many long months without intelligence or supplies, and to hasten the departure of a body of approved Missionaries to other parts of the heathen world with the inestimable blessing of the Gospel.

Subscription-papers are lodged with Mr JOHN TAWSE, writer, York-Place, Treasurer to the Society; the Rev. WALTER BUCHANAN, Canonate, Secretary; the Rev. Dr JOHNSTON, Leith; and at the office of Messrs. PITCAIRN and SCOTT, Edinburgh, by whom or any of the Directors, the smallest donation will be thankfully received.

FRANCE.

COUNCIL OF FIVE HUNDRED.

25 THERMIDOR—AUGUST 12.

A Member called the attention of the Assembly to the state of France. The most horrible plots were forming against public liberty. The conspirators were seduced to return and join the insurgents. Men openly recruited for Louis XVIII; the country was covered with brigands, and the republicans were every where murdered, under the pretence of preventing the reign of terror. He proposed that a Committee of Seven should be appointed to suggest measures calculated to restore calm to the country. It was moved to print the speech and refer it to a Committee.

CHELLET opposed it, because for the public safety the law only ought to act. A great agitation took place.

DESTRAN gave an account of a dreadful commotion at Thoulouze. The 10th Thermidor, a revolt broke out in the canton of Seves. A republican was taken out of his house and shot. The republican troops were assembled, and the rebels were beaten, but they soon rallied to the number of 5000, and the republicans were forced to give way. On the 22d the rebels amounted to 10,000, and were regularly embodied in companies, with a white flag flying, and under experienced leaders. The department of the Haut-Garonne had taken every possible precaution; they had arrested General Lancy, who, on his examination, avowed the design of a counter-revolution, and implicated the Commandants of Bayonne and of Jean-Pie de Port. He moved, that these accounts be sent to the Directory. Agreed to.

ESCHASSERIAUX the Elder.—The Republic is ruined, unless you speedily wrest from the bloody hands of the Royalists the daggers which they hold. The eternal enemies of the revolution think the moment is come of proclaiming and reviving the ancient Government; each day brings some additional news of violent outrages against the nation. The wound is deep, and must be effectually probed. The order of the day is terror, but terror is unfortunately in the hearts of all republicans, and joy and hope irradiate the countenances of the friends and supporters of kings. We have affirmed all the intolerance and apathy of kings; we are, representtatives of the people, in a lethargy, on the brink of an abyss. Let us awake, and secure ourselves from the fatal blow which is aimed at the root of our national energy! We are divided and alarmed, away with party, and let us unite to save the country! I demand that a special commission be directed to enquire into and to make an immediate report of such constitutional, strong, and decisive measures as are calculated to save the Republic from ruin, and that the organization of a plan of general defence in all the departments be agreed to.—His speech was ordered to be printed, and the motion was adopted.

Accounts were also given of an insurrection in the department of Tarn; 2000 Royalists had fired on the Republicans.

At four o'clock they went into a Secret Committee, on a message from the Directory; and on resuming the House, it was resolved that the Directory should be authorized, for two months, to make domiciliary visits in the commune of Paris, where strangers and counter-revolutionists chiefly abounded; and the resolution was immediately sent to the Elders.

MESSAGE OF THE DIRECTORY TO THE COUNCIL OF FIVE HUNDRED, RESPECTING POLITICAL SOCIETIES.

Citizen Representatives.—The Executive Directory labour incessantly in endeavouring to remedy the public disasters, they have already laid before you a statement of the public danger: to conceal it from you would be a crime.—Yes, Citizen Representatives, royalism with new hopes, audaciously pursues its conspiracies. Its agents assume every form and employ every language. Every where they co-operate to the same end, by different means. They struggle to accomplish the destruction of the Republic, by the efforts of open hatred, by the perfidious display of false zeal, and by the simulation of an extreme patriotism. Our foreign enemies, by their gold, maintain armies on our frontiers, and scatter discord in the interior. They have their spies and their conspirators in our cities. The cabinets of the coalition are endeavouring to facilitate their external conquests, by fomenting internal destruction. Fatal success has attended the efforts of our enemies. In the west, the monarchy has re-armed its former hordes of assassins; in the north fanaticism rekindles its bloody torches; in the south all kinds of re-action are prepared with redoubled fury. Meanwhile our legions so long invincible are indignant to be compelled to yield to superiority of number. The Directory employ all the means in their power to recall victory to the Republic standard—to restore peace to the departments—to re-establish order in the finances—and to re-animate patriotism in every heart. They hoped to be seconded by the revival of public spirit. They flattered themselves that the meetings of Citizens, whilst the Constitution authorised continuing themselves within the proper and legal limits, would have proved the sources of patriotism and knowledge, and the banners of concord and tranquillity. They have seen with pain that in a commune which contains so great a number of good citizens, the society which has been formed in the Rue du Bacq, has become the centre of every violence; that every effort is made to re-animate animosity, and to recall unpleasant recollections. In vain you endeavoured to banish the apprehensions of the good citizens by your solemn proclamation of your attachment to the Constitution of the year 3. Clamour has drowned the soothing accents of your anxiety, have renewed public alarms, insulted your endeavours by calling on the people to save themselves. Their proceedings and speeches have recalled the excesses and the cruelties of which the Republic is determined to prevent the return.—Thus far has extinguished energy, has shaken fidelity; hope has vanished, and a general disquietude has seized every mind. The Republicans feel themselves menaced at once by the armies of Royalism, and by the violence of new convulsions. It is the duty of the Directory to tell you, that if the Legislative Body, the Executive Power of a great Republic must be upheld by opinion, encouraged by attachment, rewarded by public esteem, it is impossible to overlook the increasing ascendancy which an assembly of individuals, unlimited in point of number, contrives to acquire. This ascendancy becomes dangerous to social order, when this mass of men, for the most part ignorant of their strength, and the purposes for which they are intended, receive unconsciously, their ideas, their plans, and even their very name, from the enemies who conspire against us. The French nation ought not to be left to the apprehension of seeing the revival of a monstrous power which it has seen; the arrogant rival, or the audacious controller of the legal and constitutional authorities. It is not fit that in the bosom of the Republic there should be permitted to be reared the Colossus of a political club, which our enemies intend to mislead, and in which daily appears the perfidious guiding hand of their emissaries.

The Directory, to remedy this evil, to obviate these dangers, thought it their duty to check the obstinacy of the Society in the Rue du Bacq, in its violation of the Constitution, and accordingly ordered it to be shut up. Firmly resolved to follow with steadiness the Constitutional line of their duty, the Directory will protect all the meetings which respect the law which Frenchmen have sworn to maintain. They will repress the attempts of all those who shall endeavour to disturb them in the exercise of their rights, but they will stop in their career all who threaten liberty, the first pledge of which is the strict observance of the Constitutional system. The Directory press you to produce the law you are preparing. Hasten to pass it with all the dispatch which your wisdom and the importance of the subject will permit. It will remind the public of their duty, by establishing anew their rights, and by prescribing the limits of each present abuse.

After this, then, the Assembly which shall engage in political discussions, will answer the end of their institution; then will they inspire the hopes instead of alarming the fears of Republicans. Then the Directory will no longer be compelled to divide their attention between the evils threatened by the Royalists and the assassinations, and no less terrible calamities which would result from the tyranny that would be founded on the destruction of the Constitutional Authorities. Then the Societies of Republicans, instead of weakening the operation of the laws by the example of their violation, will strengthen the social bond. They will animate the courage of the conspirators; they will accelerate the collection of taxes, the pledge of victory without, the security of quiet within, and prevent them from becoming the prey of speculators. Thus will they cherish patriotism and banish alarm. Men will speak to them with respect of the Constitution; of the law with submission; of Legislators and Magistrates with decency; of the armies with gratitude and pride; of liberty with enthusiasm; of their country with affection; and the Republic will again be saved and triumphant.

SIEYES, President.

LAGARDE, Sec.

It was moved that this message should be printed, because the Directory said in it, that they would support clubs that should keep themselves within the line of the law and their duties; and it was also moved that they should proceed to the discussion of the question of Popular Societies. Both motions were adopted.

26 THERMIDOR, AUGUST 13.

The result of the ballot for the Committee of Seven was declared. The Members are Chenier, Daunou, L. Buonaparte, Echasseriaux the elder, Boulay de la Meurthe, Berlier and La Marquise.

A secretary read the following letter from General Lefebvre, commanding the 17th military division, to the Council of Five Hundred.

Head-quarters of Paris, 27 Thermidor, Aug 14.

"The present situation of Paris rendering unnecessary the measure which you have thought proper to take in placing under my orders the grenadiers of the Legislative Body, I have the honour to inform you that I have given orders for them to return to their own quarters."

Souille was much astonished at this letter. The grenadiers were never, that he knew of, consigned to General Lefebvre.

All the Committee of Inspectors declared that they knew of no such order.

27 THERMIDOR—AUGUST 14.

Another discussion took place on the matter of the guard of the assemblies being put, no matter by what means, under the command of the General of the 17th division, and Texier Oliver made a motion on the subject, that no part of the guard should be put under the orders of the Directory; or of any of their officers except by a positive law. The motion of Oliver was adopted.

The order of the day was called for balloting on the question of the denunciation of the four Members of the Directory. Three urns were placed in the Tribune, each containing an inscription one of the three sets of denunciations, the one on blue paper, the second on white, and the third on yellow. Each deputy received on mounting the Tribune three slips of paper, distinguished by the same colours, and with directions to put his vote into the corresponding urn, to the side aye or no, as he might determine. When Robespierre mounted the Tribune to vote, the President exclaimed in execution of a decree, "May the blood of the French Militaires affluat at Rastadt fall on the House of Austria!" The Members all answered by a cry of "Vengeance! Vengeance!" The result of the scrutiny will be made known to-morrow.

In the Council of Elders letters from Thoulouze were read, stating that the rebels had advanced to the walls of that city. Parey, who read these accounts, said there was every reason to fear the loss of Thoulouze—that citadel of the liberty of the south of France. He afterwards said he had just received letters stating that the rebels had been beaten in every point; 300 of them had been killed, and the Republicans were in pursuit of the rest.

28 THERMIDOR, AUGUST 15.

The ballot took place relative to the impeachment of the Ex-Directors; when 219 appeared for sustaining, and 225 for rejecting the charge. There were found 14 votes which did not belong to this ballot. This occasioned a warm debate.

29 THERMIDOR—AUGUST 16.

The debate on the ballot was renewed. It was proposed by some that a new ballot should take place, by others that the former two ballots should be investigated, as the votes were preferred: This was agreed to, and the Council proceeded to examine them. In the white urn were 446 votes; the voters were only 444; there were nine yellow ballots, five blue, and a written opinion. The further investigation was put off till the 18th.

BARDIER presented an authentic narrative of the proceeding at Amiens, which he said had been misrepresented by the Royalist Journals. The affair was entirely owing to the Chouans, Muscadins, &c.

A letter was read respecting the disturbances in the department of l'Aude. It appeared that very serious disturbances had broken out on the 3d at several places in this district. The refractory priests, the conspirators, &c. raised the white cockade, attacked the Gendarmerie, and took the important post of Mogliart. The communications between Thoulouze and Carcassonne are intercepted near Castelnaudry. The rebels are commanded by a person of the name of Roger, who formerly served in the army of the Pyrenees, a man of the most daring character. The administration hope to be able to quell the rebels, and several communes had with great alacrity sent for quotas to act against the insurgents.

POSTALLIER stated that the brigands had been beaten in the department of l'Ille and Vilaine by the National Guard of Rennes, assisted by a detachment of the line. In the Council of Elders of the 16th, Berembroek denounced the Journal des Hommes Libres, for libelling Barras and Sieyes as Royalist conspirators, &c. He moved that a message should be sent to the Directory, calling on them to prosecute the authors of this journal. Agreed to.

PARIS—24 Thermidor, August 11.

The troops taken prisoners in Italy, which arrive in the territory of the Republic, are almost naked, without shoes, stockings and shirts, while the Contractors and Commissaries arrive in carriages with abundance of money.

It is said that General Scherer was arrested on the 23d of this month.

The Directors Sieyes and Barras are openly accused in the Journal des Hommes Libres of being traitors and emissaries of the coalesced powers.

Sieyes is accused of having delivered a counter-revolutionary speech on the anniversary of the 10th of August, and of having been bribed by Prussian gold.

The Citizen Begoz had been sent to General Massena with an important message from Government, which is said to relate to the neutrality of Switzerland. He has since returned to Berne, and has there had several secret conferences with the members of the Directory, some of the Ministers, and the members possessed of the greatest share of influence.

In several departments, neither conspirators nor requisition men are to be found. Some are too young, some too old, and some are married.

The Royalists have appeared in considerable force at Bourdeaux, and attempted an insurrection, but were suppressed by the Republicans and Constituted Authorities. Several persons on both sides were killed and wounded. The enemies of the Revolution then themselves openly in almost every quarter.

25 THERMIDOR, AUGUST 12.

The Royalists have increased in number and audacity. On the 19th Thermidor, August 6. they took possession of the town-house of Amiens, and several citizens were killed who attempted to resist them.

Four hundred of them appeared on horseback at Briouffe, well mounted and armed, with hussar uniforms, and disarmed all those who opposed them. Another party was at the same time employed in plundering the neighbourhood.

The Commune of Amiens is put in a state of siege.

26 THERMIDOR, AUGUST 13.

A column of Royalists, commanded by St Hubert, an Emigrant, entered on the 14th Thermidor, August 1, the town of la Bruffere, surprised and massacred the guard, and after pillaging the houses of the patriots, retired to join another party.

The 23d Thermidor, August 10. had been celebrated by the Club of Jacobins with such vehemence as to give immediate occasion to its shutting up. Nothing could be more violent than their declamations.—Gabriel, in finishing a speech on the 23d Thermidor, August 10. said "Frenchmen, may you soon conclude your glorious career, and furnish an example of your virtues and your happiness.—The 10th of August of all nations! then tyranny shall disappear from the earth; the same bond shall unite all people. Then shall be found from pole to pole, the universal song of joy—ca va, ca va!" All the auditors threw up their hats, and the vaults of the Church rung with the shouts of Vive la Republique—A bas les tyrans—a bas les voleurs—a bas les traitres—Haine implacable a toutes les tyrannies!"

27 THERMIDOR, AUG. 14.

The manner of the shutting up of the club of Jacobins in the Rue de Bacq was as follow; the Justice of the Peace of the division of the Hal-de-Bled, Fardel, went to the church of the Jacobins in the Rue de Bacq, and put the national seal on all the doors and all the places after which a piquet guard placed themselves at all the avenues, and suffered none to approach. In consequence of this stop there was a great ferment in the streets, and every appearance that a massacre would have been the consequence, but for the vigorous measures taken by the Government. The posting bills and the Journal des Hommes Libres provoked the violent by their furious appeals. The latter had the following address:—"Republicans, keep on your guard.—Depend on your representatives, as well as on the members, who are not conspirators of the higher powers. The Republicans of Paris will meet again to-morrow (the 14th) in another place. The agents of the police are extending themselves this night (the 13th August) to enslave the Republicans, and drive them to acts of fury; but they will no more succeed to night than they did succeed to-morrow. They remember the Champ de Mars and the Grenelle."

The Jacobin Society has been expelled from the Rue de Bacq. The decree to this effect, passed yesterday morning and executed yesterday evening, did not cause any disturbance. Numerous troops of cavalry dispersed the assemblies which were fraternizing, and the patrols from time to time made some arrests.

The Agents of the Police arrested at one time eleven of the principal leaders of the Society, among whom are Felix, Lepelletier, Marchand, Chretien, &c.

The nomination of General Lefebvre has been observed with great pleasure by the great majority of the inhabitants of the Commune of Paris, over which his command is to extend.

A courier arrived yesterday, and has brought letters from Joubert, dated Genoa, August 6. This General had visited all the posts, accompanied by General Moreau, and they had displayed the most complete confidence of an entire confidence in each other. The army of which Joubert takes the command is animated with the most fortunate dispositions; but it is in need of reinforcements. It is not more than 35,000 troops, not comprehending that of Championnet, which is about 30,000.

28 THERMIDOR, AUG. 15.

By the vigorous measure of shutting up the Club of the Jacobins, Paris is now perfectly tranquil. Some attempts were made to excite the Faubourgs to rise, in vain. Vigorous measures are taken to suppress insurrection in Upper Garonne. Numerous bodies of troops are marching to surround them. Gen. Freyville has the command against them, and he has the most extensive powers. The Commander of the army of the Rhine and also of the army of England, has also power to put every place into a state of siege when symptoms of insurrection shall appear. The distribution of writings, tending to royalty among the troops, is to be tried by a Military Court, and pain of death shall be inflicted on all who shall conceal a defector, or seduce a soldier to desert.

29 THERMIDOR, AUG. 16.

They write from Caen, that the Royalists had shown themselves there, but they were seasonably disarmed.

Among a number of Emigrants and Royalists arrested by the Police, are likewise many members of Revolutionary Committees, persons wearing the pictures of Chabrier, Marat, and Babeuf, at their breasts.

30 THERMIDOR, AUG. 17.

There has been an action in the department of l'Ille and Vilaine, between about 700 Chouans and 130 Republicans, which lasted four hours, with great loss on both sides. The practice of taking hostages prevails in this quarter.

General Massena is expected at Paris.

Letters from Ratibon state, that the Emperor of Russia has declared, that he would consider as enemies such states of the empire as should not within four weeks send their respective contingents to take the field.

1 FRUCTIDOR, AUG. 18.

Letters from Aleppo, dated 25th June, state, that Buonaparte was making the most expeditious retreat to regain the main body at Cairo, ravaging and laying under the heaviest contributions all the principal towns through which they pass. Jaffa has been particularly ill treated; on the reduction of which place the hero of Italy made a pyramid of human victims massacred in cold blood.

News from Constantinople, of the 28th July, state, that Murat Bey had arrived at Grand Cairo, without much difficulty, that there were few French in Egypt, and that the Arabs and the Copts who had joined them had abandoned them as soon as they learned the defeat of Buonaparte. A vessel from Alexandria is also said to have brought information to Constantinople, that a great part of the French who were in Egypt were embarked to return to France, but they were pursued by some Turkish vessels.

The captain of a Ragusan ship, from Alexandria, informed the captain of a French vessel, whom he fell in with near Malta, that a magnificent festival was celebrated in that island on account of the capture of St John of Acre by the Commander in Chief of the army of the East. The captain who communicated this intelligence was himself present at the festival.

SPEECH OF CITIZEN SIEYES, PRESIDENT TO THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTORY, ON THE CELEBRATION OF THE ANNIVERSARY OF AUGUST 10.

Day of justice and glory, which the destinies of France selected for establishing national independence on the ruins of the throne, I salute thee in the name of all the French! On the 10th of August royalty was overturned in France, it will never again rise. Such is the oath which you engraved on the walls of this palace at the moment even when you expelled the despots, whose yoke was become insupportable, who styled themselves the Delegates of Heaven, to oppose with savage security the earth, who considered France as their patrimony, the French as their subjects, the laws the expression of their will, and whose hereditary influence had familiarized us with this ridiculous language, that perhaps, even at present, it does not strike our ears with sufficient astonishment.

In this struggle there remained to royalty, as defenders, the audacity and avarice of a corrupted court, perfidy, insolence, and the deceitful aid of servitude. It had for adversaries, courage, determined resolution, the enthusiasm of infant liberty, and the generous virtues it inspires. The combat could not be of long duration—victory could not be doubtful. But along with Royalty it was impossible to annihilate in one day all the interests it had associated, all the institutions which were too much identified with it. In Republican France Royalty retained then both friends and avengers. The one did not even disguise their efforts to revive it; founding their hope on I know not what fraternity of France, and the most intimate alliance between the throne and the altar; they armed around as a part of Europe; they reminded in the midst of the torch of fanaticism.

TO Let for even years, from the term of Martinmas next.

THE FARM OF ROWIS OF OLD Montrose. This farm lies within four miles of Montrose and about the same distance from Brechin (to both of which places there are excellent roads) and consists of 195 Scots acres. With respect to the quality of the ground, it is partly a rich black, and partly a good clay soil, all of which is in excellent order. The houses are commodious and in complete repair. Lime will be furnished to that part of the farm which has not been recently limed, on the tacksman's paying, during the currency of the lease, six pence on the money expended, having first the benefit of the lime for two years without interest, after the advances are made.

The rent will be a money one, and no bond service is due to the proprietor.

There are about 20 acres of fallow this year, all of which are already well dressed, and the greater part dunged.

For further particulars, enquire at Mr Trail, Powis, by Montrose.

SALE OF LANDS IN ARGYLESHIRE.

To be Sold by public sale, in the course of next winter, the day of Sale to be afterwards advertised.

THE LANDS OF ASHFIELD, OF LARONAMUNSHOON with the whole Islands and Pertinents, lying in the parish of North Knapdale, and shire of Argyll. The lands lie contiguous, and are situated on the west coast of Argyllshire, on the east side of the arm of the sea called Lochswane, within five miles of the Crinan Canal. The arable ground, which is of considerable extent, is of good quality, and the whole ground, which is very extensive, stretching out about three miles from the shore, affords excellent pasture, equally adapted for sheep or black cattle. The shore, which extends about three miles along Lochswane, produces considerable quantities of sea ware, fit for kelp or manure. The fences are in good order, as are part of the office-houses, which have been lately built.

The lands are at present let to substantial tenants, on leases which expire at Whitsunday 1805. The nett rent, after deducting the public burdens, is about 173*l.*; but on the expiry of the present leases a very considerable rise may be expected, besides a very extensive natural wood, which is fit for cutting and is on the estate several thriving and well inclosed plantations of fir, and other timber, about eighteen years old, of which the present value is 545*l.* The lands abound with black and red game, and roes are to be found in the woods. In Lochswane there are abundance of all kinds of sea fish, and several oyster banks.

The upset price will be 5218*l.* 16*s.* 8*d.*

Persons wishing to view the lands may apply to John Campbell, tenant in Ashfield, or the wood-keeper; and for further particulars application may be made to William Barker, banker, Kilmarnock; Thomas Keble, writer, Paisley; Colin Campbell, writer, Inverary; or Thomas Adair, clerk to the signet.

A CAPITAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

THE HOUSE, POLICY, and ESTATE OF KERMOLANCE, lying in the parish of Strathcathie, at the foot of Kirkcudbright, rented at 120*l.* Sterling, and comprising of about 947 Scots acres, of which about 64 acres are covered with old wood or thriving plantations. The soil is allowed to be amongst the best in that fertile district, which is justly considered the Kernel of the Stewarty. The rivers run and the count flops to south-east; and, from the dryness of its soil, is warm and has more fair weather, than most parts of the kingdom north of the Trent and the Mersey, being protected from the cold fog of the East Sea by the Scotch mountains, and from the storm and rains of the Western Ocean by the north of Ireland and the mountains of West Galloway.

The lands are situated in a fine fertile country, and lie along the great road from Dumfries to Port-Patrick, about fourteen miles from the former, and within three of the market and post town of Cattle-Douglas, and five of a harbour, where lime at all seasons can easily be imported from, and grain, &c. exported to the west coast of England. On one of these farms there is an excellent situation for an inn, precisely midway betwixt Dumfries and Gathcathie, an advantage not possessed by any of the present inns on that road. The farms are possessed by a set of the most intelligent, industrious, and thrifty tenants in the present new world, all well inclosed and subdivided, having convenient new buildings, farm steadings, sheltered with belts of planting. There still remains some marle upon the estate undug, and plenty may be had from Crailingwark Loch, in the neighbourhood.

This estate affords four Freehold Qualifications to vote for Representative in Parliament, all on different farms, by old extent. It is intended to sell one of the farms at the extremity of the estate, with a freehold qualification, apart.

The proprietor has right to the teinds, which were also valued in 1760, and the lands are free from all attriction, except to the barony mill, which is a small subject to be sold.

The bonie is most sufficient, and fit for the accommodation of a large family. There is a complete set of offices, with a productive dove-cot; ponds stocked with fish of various kinds; a garden, orchard, and fruit walls in full bearing. The surrounding domain consists of about 150 acres in the lawn, and eight inclosed fields, with unusually strong fences and easy access. There are good well laid out roads through the whole estate; and from a number of genteel families living in the neighbourhood; it is considered as a desirable residence.

As these lands are now offertory to be sold, persons desirous of such a purchase ought to come forward without delay.

For particulars apply to the Proprietor at Blackwood, by Dumfries; or to Alexander Blair, writer to the signet, Edinburgh.

Conscious the truth of that excellent remark, made at the first page of your Medical Mirror, that a Physician has a threefold duty to perform, I cheerfully come forward to acquaint you of a surprising Cure that has lately been made by the use of your RE-ANIMATING SOLAR TINCTURE. The patient alluded to was in a very weak state of body, suffering on a Phthisis Pulmonalis, and a constant Cough, so that the Nervous System was shook to the centre; as much, so that he could not hold his hands steady; his words faint, and trembling from his lips; this with a loss of appetite, accompanied with an Atrophis, or wasting of the flesh, a palpitation of the heart, and a great dejection of spirit, made his case truly affecting. In this situation, for more than a twelvemonth there was prescribed a number of medicines, (according to what is termed regular practice,) but without success, (the case was obstinate; common prescriptions were of no avail.) In this crisis, unwilling to give him up to the gloomy mansion of the grave, I recollected the description you gave of the power and efficacy of your RE-ANIMATING SOLAR TINCTURE, and how learnedly and originally you had wrote on the Nervous System, in your various publications. This, with the call of Humanity, that pressed with the most moving accents, induced me to make trial of your Medicine; when, to my astonishment, although apparently at the brink of the grave, he was not taken more than Eight Bottles before he was perfectly covered, a healthy and grateful witness that your Tincture had improperly called the PABULUM (or foot) of LIFE.

I am, Sir, with the greatest esteem, yours,
Bridghthorpe,
Derbyshire,
G. ROBERTS, M.D.

* It is necessary those who are afflicted with the Tubercle, Jaundice or Dropsy, Asthma, Consumption, Tubercles, Agues, Gout, Rheumatism, Disorders in the Stomach and Bowels, Convulsions, Cholice, Spasms, Cramps, Bloody Flux, Piles, Steric Complaints, Palsy, weak Nerves, &c. should take notice that the above Medicine is not introduced to them under common descriptive words, "ROYAL AUTHORITY," when Majesty has given no particular authority for the sale of medicines. But the Doctor, after having submitted his Receipt of the Compound of his Solar Tincture to the necessary confirmation of proper persons appointed for that purpose, and Majesty has thought proper to order it's ENROLMENT in Chancery, and issued, under his own HAND, HIS ROYAL LETTER PATENT, to which are prefixed the broad SEAL of Great Britain; therefore, (to prevent counterfeits) it is mentioned on every Bottle and Bill of Directions.

Sold in bottles at 7s. 6d. and 13s. each, (duty included) in simple directions, &c. by the Patentee, E. SIBLY, M. D. at his house, No. 40, New Bridge Street, near St. Paul's, London. And by Mr. ANDREW SMITH, Perfumer, North Bridge Street.
